

MULLEN LETS CASE GO TO GRAND JURY

Waives Examination and Crowd Is Disappointed—Industrial Schools to Have More Land.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, Petersburg, Va., July 31.—Police Justice Plummer had a large audience to crowd his courtroom this morning to hear the expected evidence in the recent murder case—that of John Ashby Mullen, the slayer of Elijah J. Cole. There was evident disappointment among the visitors when the accused man, in response to the question by the justice as to his readiness to go into the examination of witnesses, quietly but firmly, and in a few words as possible, waived examination and requested that the case be sent up to the higher court. This was done, and the prisoner was taken back to jail.

Mullen has as yet engaged no counsel, but as his case will not come up before the third Thursday in September, he will have abundant time to arrange for his defense, which it is believed will be that of emotional insanity. He was not at all alarmed by the stare of the crowd this morning, but was remarkably cool and collected in manner. Public sentiment in regard to the killing of Cole has very materially changed since the coroner's inquest, and adversely to the accused.

More Land for Farming.
The executive committee of the board of visitors of the Virginia Normal and Industrial Institute, near this city, has recently purchased additional land adjoining that on which the school is located, and which is owned by the State.

The enlarging of the farm is for the better instruction of students in practical agriculture, and this department will be under the special supervision and care of Mr. T. O. Sandy, of Burkeville, one of the most experienced farmers in the State. The new building, now being erected on the institute grounds, will be used for this latter purpose.

Death of Mrs. Annie Chapman.
Mrs. Annie Rives Chapman, daughter of Mrs. Judith Rives, died this morning at her mother's residence in Battersea Avenue. She was much respected and beloved by her many friends. Her mother and two brothers, all of this city, survive her.

The Riverside and Appomattox trap teams will have a transy hunting party to-morrow afternoon at Riverside Park.

Misses Annie, Sadie and Blanche Wetmore, of Durham, N. C., are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Isham R. Dyer, on High Street.

News in Brief.
The Hustling Court finished the criminal docket for this term, but only one unfortunate goes to the penitentiary—Charles Goldstein, a white man, from Rocky Mount, who was charged with robbery. John Spencer, indicted under cocaine law, was convicted, but granted a new trial. John Thwaitt pleaded guilty to having cocaine to sell, but sentence in his case was suspended until September.

No arrangements have yet been announced as to the time of the laying of the cornerstone of the new public school building, at the corner of Wythe and Jefferson Streets, though the building is fast approaching completion. The arrangements are in the hands of a committee of the school board. The new house will be the handsomest school building in the city, and will be named in memory of Dr. Duncan M. Brown, for twenty years the superintendent of schools in Petersburg.

Congressman F. R. Lassiter emphatically denied charges of impropriety published in the Washington Post, in which he was quoted as making a prophecy unfavorable to Bryan's election. The purported interview was a fake.

Charley Rebeckah Lodge, Independent Order of Odd-Fellows, installed its newly elected officers to-night, Mrs. F. H. Cole, district deputy president, conducting the ceremonies. An entertaining evening was spent and refreshments served.

JONES WAIVES EXAMINATION.
No Effort Made to Give Trial—Difficulty in Getting Counsel.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., July 31.—In the Police Court to-day J. T. Jones, charged with the murder of a fourteen-year-old Esther Black, waived a preliminary hearing, and was sent to the grand jury. The warrant was changed so as to charge a felony instead of a misdemeanor. No effort was made to bail Jones.

The feeling in the East End has quieted down considerably to-day, but the prisoner's friends deem it advisable to run no risks. Two lawyers declined to take Jones's case, and when it was called in court this morning, he found himself without counsel. The hearing was postponed until this afternoon, when R. M. Lett appeared for the defense.

FOUND CUTICURA INDISPENSABLE

For Her Children—Little Girls Suffered with Itching Eczema Which Simply Covered Back of Heads—Baby Had a Tender Skin, Too.

ALL PROMPTLY CURED BY "WONDERFUL OINTMENT"

"Some years ago my three little girls had a very bad form of eczema. Itching eruptions formed on the backs of their heads, which simply covered. Before I heard of Cuticura, I used to try almost everything, but they failed. Then my mother recommended Cuticura Remedies. I washed my children's heads with Cuticura Soap and then applied the wonderful ointment. I did this four or five times and can say that they have been entirely cured. I have a younger baby who is so plump that the folds of skin on her neck were broken and even bled. I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and the next morning the trouble had disappeared. I am using the Cuticura Remedies yet whenever any of my family have any sores. I can never recommend Cuticura sufficiently. It is indispensable in every home. I cannot find its equal. Mme. Napoleon Dupepe, 41 Duluth St., Montreal, Que., May 21, 1907."

CHILD'S LEGS BURNED OFF

Infant child of John Lambeth, convicted yesterday in Princess Anne county of cruelly throwing the baby into the fire.

FATHER GUILTY OF BURNING HIS CHILD

John Lambeth Convicted in Princess Anne and Given Eight Years in Prison.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, Va., July 31.—John Lambeth, the white man charged with throwing his child in the fire while intoxicated, causing severe burns to the legs, was found guilty this afternoon in Princess Anne county, the jury sending him to the State prison for eight years.

The trial consumed the entire day. The case was given to the jury at 5:30, and a verdict was returned in a few minutes. The mother of the child was present and testified that Lambeth, in striking at her, struck the child and knocked it in the fire. When she tried to rescue it, Lambeth, she said, refused to let her do so, and the child was burned.

The helpless infant was in court, and was exhibited to the jury. It was bright, but presented an awful picture. Lambeth took the stand and said if he did what was charged he did not know anything about it. Detective O'Rourke, of Norfolk, testified that Lambeth, at his preliminary hearing, told Justice Pentress: "Whatever the mother said, I will believe it. The mother had just told me that she had thrown the child into the fire. I believed her, and I told to-day, said the detective, when Lambeth made this statement to the court. Dr. Whitehead, who was the first to attend the burned infant at Kempville, Princess Anne, told what he knew of the case.

Insanity was the defense put up for Lambeth. The case was given to the jury at 5:30, and a verdict was returned in a few minutes. The mother of the child was present and testified that Lambeth, in striking at her, struck the child and knocked it in the fire. When she tried to rescue it, Lambeth, she said, refused to let her do so, and the child was burned.

Stiek Goes Through Horse's Leg.
SMITH'S CROSS ROADS, Va., July 31.—Mr. Eddie Jones, who lives near here, had the misfortune last night while driving his horse and buggy, to get a stick stuck nearly through the flesh part of his horse's hind leg.

The stick was a piece of white oak, which was lying in the road, and on which the horse stepped, causing one end to fly up and enter the thigh of the horse. It is thought the wound is not fatal, but several months will be required for it to heal entirely.

Workings of a Press Clipping Bureau.

It has come to be a necessity that any one whose name ever appears in a newspaper must be a subscriber to press clippings, still there are few who understand anything about the workings of such a bureau. People take press clippings because in no other way can they learn how many papers throughout the country print stories concerning them. They must have a bureau to read every paper published. Then every day concerning them, reaching their hands.

There are some forty press clipping bureaus in the United States, but before becoming a subscriber one should understand just what bureau to deal with. This is necessary, because in order to read 5,000 different publications a bureau must have a large area of working space and employ many people. Some bureaus work in one room with three and four workers. The largest bureau in the world, that is the Burrelle Press Clipping Bureau in New York, reads every publication issued, has 2,000 square feet of space, and has 100 workers.

There are dozens of departments in the Burrelle Bureau, but the one spectacular feature is the work of those who actually read the papers. These readers sit before an inclined desk on which the paper rests. The reader scans the columns with a large pair of pincers, and when he finds a name, he marks it with lightning-like rapidity. The moment he sees the name of a client, down goes the pencil and a mark is put under the name. The marvelous part is, that the reader must bear in mind something like 60,000 names. It is a feat of memory that almost passes human understanding, and it is done day in and day out. The reader's mind is kept active on these subjects in a daily school of instruction. For an hour each day the readers sit silently before their desks while a forewoman takes up a list of customers, and one by one calls out the names and explains their wants. It takes ten days, an hour each day, to complete the list. On the eleventh day the forewoman begins over again. So the routine goes on, week in and week out.

Any one who hasn't a press clipping bureau or any one who hasn't the largest in the world, should write a note addressed simply "Burrelle, New York City," which will put them in immediate touch with every paper published.

Sent On to Grand Jury.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
FREDERICKSBURG, Va., July 31.—The case of Charles M. Minnis, the colored postmaster at Occopola, Essex county, charged with embezzlement of the sum of $214 of post-office funds, came up before United States Commissioner W. W. Butner here this afternoon. His counsel waived hearing, and Minnis was sent on to United States grand jury.

Does Not Remember.
Telling of his private examination of the prisoner concerning the killing of Dr. Drewry said Jarratt remembered some occurrences of the day and the expressions and manifestations of the prisoner in court were characteristic of his mental state, and indicated depression and melancholy. He spoke of the various stages of epilepsy. Epileptics, he declared, may do things in an apparently natural way, and yet retain only a hazy recollection, or none at all, of what they have done.

Mind Long Disordered.
Dr. Drewry declared unqualifiedly that the prisoner had been of a diseased mind for several years, and in his opinion is insane now.

He said Jarratt had suffered from epilepsy, periods of apparent insanity, some severe, some emotional. He cried, was moody, indifferent, had defective memory, a hazy recollection, or none at all, of what they have done.

JARRATT IS INSANE; GOES TO HOSPITAL

Evidence of Dr. Drewry Convincing Jury He Was Not Responsible for Killing Officer.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
SUFFOLK, Va., July 31.—Another man was added to the ranks of the criminally insane here to-day, when Captain James Waverly Jarratt was ordered sent to a State hospital, instead of being tried for murder. Jarratt was accused of shooting down Policeman George T. Smith in cold blood on July 4th. Owing to the feeling against the prisoner, said verdict is far from popular, one, though the jury did not do otherwise without discrediting the evidence. The jury was out just fourteen minutes.

The prosecutor moved that the court order the prisoner's commitment to an asylum. This was done.

The star witness of to-day was Dr. W. F. Drewry, Superintendent of the Central Asylum, who declared that Jarratt is insane, was insane July 4th and had had a diseased mind several years. Dr. Drewry, who is an expert on epilepsy, said epileptic insanity is the most dangerous form, that four-fifths of the assaults and crimes in his asylum are committed by epileptics, though they number only 130 out of 1,350.

Witness declared that the chance for Jarratt's recovery is remote, and that his mind is not strong enough to plan an escape from the hospital. Jarratt heard the verdict without any emotion or change of expression. Other witnesses testified as to Jarratt's hereditary tendencies and his periodical epileptic fits.

NO NIGHT RATES IN NORTH CAROLINA

Bell Company Allowed to Charge as Much for Night as Day Service—Raleigh News.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
RALEIGH, N. C., July 31.—The night rates, which are 50 per cent. less than the day rates, for long distance telephone service, are to be abolished in North Carolina. An order to this effect has just been made by the North Carolina Corporation Commission, in granting a petition from the Southern Bell Telephone Company. This leaves South Carolina the only State in the Union that has a night rate. The action of the commission abolishing the rate is on the grounds that the cost of furnishing night service is as great as the day rate; that the night rate caused a great congestion of business, especially from 6 P. M. to 8 P. M., thereby greatly impairing the standard of service; that the Southern Bell Company, with $400,000 invested in long distance lines in North Carolina, and with gross earnings of only $96,330, has realized only 3.53 per cent. on its investment.

Two Negro Murder Cases.
Coroner Separks and a jury investigated the shooting of Annie Martin colored, by Simon Lovejoy, to-day, and charged that he was guilty of the crime on Lovejoy, who, in fact, boasted that he did kill the woman, and that now he does not care what they do with him. The whole side of the woman's head was blown off by the load of shot.

A colored man, died this morning at Rex Hospital from a gunshot wound inflicted three weeks ago by William Harrison, a fellow-railroad laborer, as the outcome of a quarrel over a game of cards. This was in a Seaboard Air Line shanty car on the yard here. Harrison was slain in defense. The town authorities had to take charge of the body of Jones for burial, there being no demand for it by relatives. He came from Columbia, S. C.

Funeral of Mr. Haywood.
This afternoon at 5 o'clock the funeral service over the remains of Mr. Joseph A. Haywood was conducted from Christ Church, and the interment was in the Haywood family lot in Oakwood. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. B. W. Baker and Misses Martha and Elsie Haywood. His wife, who was Miss Mary Boylan, died a number of years ago.

A charter was issued to-day for the Willard-White Company, of Warren, to do a general mercantile business; capital, $8,000, by B. C. Hilliard, Edmond White, and others.

A movement has been started here looking to securing a change in the city government, whereby the members of the Board of Aldermen shall be elected at large rather than each ward electing its own members, as at present. Petitions are being circulated for a mass meeting to be held looking to this end.
